RE: RFP No.15-051LN

Mr. Navarro:

The Center for Public Policy at California State University, Fullerton would like to express interest in RFP No.15-051LN, but acknowledge a full proposal is not being submitted due to requirement of a minimum of three similar projects in the last three years.

In 2013, The Center for Public Policy provided expertise on electoral systems and city government to the City of Anaheim's Citizen Advisory Committee on Elections and Community Involvement during its consideration of changes to the city's electoral system. This recent effort is very similar to portions of the scope of work being requested.

One of the largest benefits of collaborating with our research center at California State University Fullerton is our diversity of expertise and the environment of collaboration fostered on campus that extends to the public and our clients. Our ability to bring in multi-discipline experts is an advantage that is coupled with being able to provide services that are most often at a lower cost than the private sector.

If you find that you desire additional information about our services, specifically with regard to education on charter vs. general law cities, at-large vs district elections, or the CVRA and VRA, we would be interested in consulting on this project or projects of this nature in the future. If the city finds that they would like to proceed with creating council districts, the Center for Demographic Research, our sister center on campus, has provided redistricting support services to a number of governmental agencies (www.fullerton.edu/cdr).

If you would like any additional information or we can help in any way, please contact me at justintucker@fullerton.edu. Thank you again for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Justin A. Tucker, Co-Director
